First Nations Internships at Channel 44

South Australian Film Corporation

The South Australian Film Corporation has recently partnered with Adelaide's free to air community television channel – Channel 44 which will see a new careers pathway for First Nations screen makers.

The partnership includes support for up to 5 interns who will be mentored across key creative and crew roles. Each internship requires up to 80 hours of unpaid work that will include hands on experience in television production, along with the ability to learn new skills and create original content.

Channel 44 has a social media following of 10,000 people with 65,000 audience viewership within Adelaide and SA regional towns.

Channel 44 delivers regular TV programming including SA Sports Show at 3 hours per week and Our Time at 2 hours per week.

What is on offer?

Up to 5 Internships will be created with interns to be mentored by experienced Channel 44 staff including on set production and within the production office.

Positions available for internships across multiple roles include:
